The Money They Spend Amounts to $700,000,000 a Year.

The amount of money expended by tourists in Europe has, if official records abroad are to be accepted as authentic, increased enormously of late years. There has been recently filed with the Swiss minister of finance and customs at Bern a detailed statement of hotel receipts in that country, from which it appears that the gross receipts of Swiss hotels rose from 62,800,000 francs in 1880 to 114,383,000 in 1894. The entire annual expenses of the Swiss republic amount in a year to between 80,000,000 and 90,000,000 francs (the budget for this year is given at the latter figure), and it would seem, therefore, very much as if the hotels of Switzerland take in in a year more than the government itself does.

The Swiss figures are not the only ones furnished in Europe recently on this point. A French record shows that every year there are 270,000 foreigners who pass from a fortnight to a whole winter on the Riviera. Every person is supposed to expend on an average 1,000 francs, or $200, in the country. In other words, the foreign visitors spend in the country every winter the sum of $54,000,000. The English are put down as contributing one-third of this amount; the French themselves contribute another third; Germans, Belgians, Dutch, Russians and Americans contribute the remainder. From being a poor country when it was annexed to France in 1860 Nice has become one of the richest departments of the republic.

Some figures recently compiled of the revenues to hotels from tourists in Paris show the average number of foreign visitors to be 60,000. It is customary to estimate at 10 francs, or $2, a day the hotel bills of strangers in Paris. Estimating at $2 a day each the hotel bills of 60,000 tourists and at about as much more their other outlays it is to be seen that tourists in Paris can be put down for an expenditure of nearly $250,000 a day.

The total sum expended by tourists in Europe in a year is probably not very far from $700,000,000, and a very considerable portion of this comes from the pockets, the purses and the bankers' balances of Americans, who are proverbially the most liberal among travelers. Russians come second, Brazilians third.—Exchange.

Timidity and Greatness.

M. Dugas, a Frenchman, has written an extremely interesting book on "Timidity." He finds that the vast majority of people are timid in their youth. A considerable minority remain timid all their lives. Timidity leads to meditation and analysis. It enters into the temperament of the philosopher and man of science. Per contra, a thoroughly stupid man is seldom timid.

Virgil, Horace, Benjamin Constant, Michelot and Amiel were all notably timid men. M. Dugas notes that in the intellectual man you are apt to find great speculative hardness combined with a practical timidity. Carlyle's is the typical case. The mere thought of having to order a coat or buy a pair of gloves caused him the most acute discomfort.

In its extreme type timidity approaches the malady of the will which the medical dictionaries call agoraphobia—the dread of the crowd, of the gaze of other people. All public speakers have known this feeling—even, it is said, the brazen M. Rochefort. Cicero, used as he was to the rostrum, was prevented by "blue funk" from delivering his "Milonian" speech. M. Sarcey, who has lectured every week for 20 years, says he has never been able to conquer his timidity. Fallet, a famous Parisian advocate, was so nervous that he used to say he half hoped some accident would happen to him in the street on his way to the court, so that he might be prevented from appearing. Veteran actors, when they are worth their salt, seldom get over their "stage fright."

Bringing Out the Lines.

That awful problem, or that thing which people choose to consider an awful problem, the matter of woman's dress, was brought up in Sorosis' talk upon art by Mrs. Hester M. Poole. "When women have a true sense of true beauty," said Mrs. Poole, making a remark which has, perhaps, been made before, "they will be walking exemplars of truth and beauty. When we have put art into woman's dress," she went on, "we will have something that will be durable in all times and in all seasons. Art in dress will bring out the lines of contour."

"Oh, I don't want my lines of contour brought out!" groaned a thin little woman to her next neighbor.

Mrs. Poole, however, appeared to have no concrete ideas of what the ideal costume should be, so for some time Sorosis and the woman of today will be able to present her contour to the world only through the medium of a tailor made

The Trans-Mississippi and International Congress is composed of delegates from every State and Territory West of the Mississippi river. The idea of this exposition originated in that Congress at its session at Omaha in 1895, and the project has become a National enterprise and the National Commission has been organized and is in active service, there being one commissioner for each of the several departments of the Government. Most of the Trans-Mississippi States are well along in the way of gathering exhibits from their respective States and many of them have made liberal appropriations, while others are preparing exhibits through private enterprise.

Vice-President H. B. Maxson of Reno, has made arrangements whereby he can get Nevada exhibits, shipped from any point in the State along the line of the C. P. R. R., to Omaha and return, and he requests all persons who wish the interests of the State advertised, to co-operate with the Exposition County Commissioner of his county, whose name is shown above, and prepare some product of his county and send it to the nearest point on the C. P. R. R. from which place it will be sent to Omaha and exhibited, and returned to the same point at the close of the exposition, free of expense to the exhibitor. Full information should accompany everything sent for exhibition. Before sending anything to the line of the railroad a full description should be given. The Exposition Commissioner of the county, who in turn will notify the Vice-President, who will notify him what action to take, otherwise there might be many duplications. Apply to your County Representative for further information, and don't let this opportunity of advertising the resources of Nevada be lost.

THE NEVADA WAR CLAIMS.

The bill for the payment of California, Oregon and Nevada war claims may become a law at the next session of Congress. It was in conference at the time Congress adjourned. This conference consists of three Senators, among whom are Stewart and Teller, and three Representatives. Though the Senate passed the war claims bill at several sessions it was invariably defeated in the House. The present House conferees admit that they are not familiar with the history of the claims and want more light on the subject.

This is not surprising in view of the fact that every Republican newspaper in Nevada charged, when the bill was introduced by Senator Stewart, that it was done for political purposes. The editors of those papers knew nothing of the merits of the claims and preferred embracing the opportunity to misrepresent Senator Stewart to taking the trouble to inform themselves. The House conferees were more considerate and expressed their willingness to hear evidence regarding the validity of the claims from those who know the facts. With this assurance on their part it is morally certain that the claims will be allowed at the short session of Congress next winter.

There is no question as to the validity of the Nevada State war claims. The money was expended legitimately as the vouchers on file in the office of the State Controller prove, and Congress when advised of the facts cannot well afford to disallow the claims.

FACTS AGAINST THE GOLDITES.

When war was declared against Spain the goldites in and out of Congress insisted that the war loan should be payable in gold coin. The law makes all bonds issued by the Government redeemable in coin and the Matthew's resolution defines coin to be gold or silver dollars, the latter to contain 412½ grains of silver each. The gold trust squandered its willingness to take Government securities if Congress would make the securities payable in gold. Mr. Reel's branch of the National Legislature was willing to comply with the request of the money trust, but there were quite a number of Senators who did not think there was any necessity for issuing bonds of any description and the House rather than have a new issue of greenbacks and no bonds, made no serious attempt to make the bonds payable in gold. Now the loan to the amount of $200,000,000 has been taken and every bond issued is redeemable in coin—gold or standard dollars—at the option of the Government. The Secretary of the Treasury, who was a Cleveland goldbug, elects to pay all Government obligations in gold, but the people are hopeful that his successor will be a man who will abide by the letter and spirit of the contract printed on every bond and redeem those obligations with gold and silver, the money of the Constitution.

The new loan proves that the people are not averse to the use of silver as well as gold, as they did not hesitate to purchase bonds which are redeemable in either or both metals.

The gold output of the Yukon mines this season is variously estimated at from $9,000,000 to $15,000,000, or about one-third of what the "boomers" predicted it would be last spring. The falling off is attributed to scarcity of provisions and candles last winter. Very little mining is done in the summer; the gravel is taken out when the ground is frozen and washed when the ice breaks up in the spring. A few have done well in the mines, but the majority of those who went to the Klondike did not make fortunes or better their condition. Wages are good when employment can be obtained.

The contract for the breakwater at San Pedro, California, has been awarded to Heldmar & Noh of Chicago, who were the lowest bidders. About two years ago a commission appointed under an Act of Congress to examine the harbor at San Pedro and Santa Monica as to their availability for shipping reported in favor of San Pedro. The Secretary of War, who was suspected of favoring Santa Monica, refused to let the contract until compelled to do so. His action or rather inaction gave rise to much reverse comment, but he has finally let the contract, so all is well.

President McKinley is considerably annoyed over the delay of Admiral Sampson in furnishing a convoy to General Miles and his expedition to Porto Rico. He cabled sharp orders to the Admiral yesterday to furnish the necessary war ships immediately.

CONDENSED WAR NEWS.

According to a London special from Madrid Seno Sagasta, the Premier, has again offered to resign and has been counseled by the Queen to advise with other leaders relative to his future course.

It is reported that General Weyler is likely to form a Cabinet with General Polavieja as Minister of War. The combination will support the dynasty, repeal the suspension of constitutional rights and continue the war.

Reports from Barcelona say that there is a growing movement in favor of intervention on the part of France and that France will be asked to take Catalonia, of which Barcelona is the capital, under protection.

The inhabitants of the Canary Islands are panic stricken at the prospect of an American attack. The wealthy people have gone into the interior and great misery prevails.

Good progress is being made in raising the Maria Teresa and it is believed she can be saved. The board of officers have also examined the Raza Mercedes and it is thought she can also be raised.

General Aguinaldo, the insurgent leader in the Philippines, is eminently in favor of annexation to the United States. Other prominent families in the Philippines favor the movement.

A dispatch from Santiago says that General Garcia has written General Shafter, declaring his disgust at the treatment he has received from the Americans and will therefore withdraw his forces. The Insurgent General complains that the American commander failed to officially notify him of the surrender of General Toral, also that he was not asked to be present at the formal capitulation of Santiago.

Secretary Long of the Navy has been informed of the safe arrival at Manila of the second expedition from San Francisco and that all on board were well.

Reports from official sources in Madrid give out that there are no peace negotiations started as yet.

General Miles sent a dispatch to Secretary Alger at 2:45 yesterday afternoon that he would sail at 3 o'clock conveyed by the Massachusetts, Dixie, Gloucester, Cincinnati, Annapolis, Linden and Wasp.

The third company of the Nevada Battalion of U. S. Volunteers was mustered into the service of the United States yesterday afternoon. It is known as Company B, the Emmetts of Virginia City, and consists of three commissioned officers, namely, Captain G. E. Sanders of Elko, First Lieutenant G. D. Pyne of Virginia City, Second Lieutenant William Rigby of Elko, and 100 men. The men were enlisted in Companies Band E and were consolidated. Major Morrison came here in command of one of these companies before he was elected Major. Several of the men are from Lincoln county, more came from Elko, and probably one-third or more of the whole number from Virginia City. Mastering Officer Bennett before he administered the oath, which is taken by all United States troops, informed the men, who were drawn up in double ranks at shoulder arms, that they were at liberty to leave the ranks, but not one of them showed the slightest disposition to do so. All took the oath in a clear, distinct voice and when the ceremony was over a cheer went up from the crowd of spectators. All the men are required to subscribe to the oath, in fact, they have to sign three rolls, so that it takes considerable time to complete the muster of 103 men.

Company A, the Nationals of Virginia City, and Company D of Winnemucca consolidated under the name of A Company. The officers are Captain Charles Colburn of Virginia City, First Lieutenant Lee Winkle of Winnemucca, and Second Lieutenant Henry Conrad of Virginia City. The company has only 95 enlisted men, which is five less than the minimum and the Mastering Officer telegraphed the War Department for instructions on the twelve days for which the Department furnishes rations between enlistment and muster expired last night. The officers say they will recruit the company up to the maximum in a day or two, but Mastering Officer Bennett is a soldier and obeys instructions from the War Department, and Company A was not mustered in yesterday.

The battalion will probably remain in Nevada until the arms now on the way arrive, as it is expected to leave the State fully equipped for service.

Knights of the Macabees.

Reno Tent No. 5, Knights of the Macabees, is the name of the latest secret order to be instituted in our midst. The Tent was pitched a few evenings since by Sir Kt. Dep Supreme Com. J. W. Wright of Salt Lake with quite a number of Charter members. The following officers were installed to serve the remainder of the term. Sir Kt. P. Com., P. T. Phillips; Sir Kt. Com., B. F. Curlier; Sir Kt. Lt. Com., F. H. Norcross; Sir Kt. R. K. F. J. Steinmetz; Sir Kt. F. K. O. A. Coffin; Sir Kt. Chap., B. F. Hadelson; Sir Kt. Serg., J. T. Taylor; Sir Kt. Phy., P. T. Phillips; Sir Kt. M. at A. T. R. Biggs; Sir Kt. 1st M. of G., G. A. V. Hughes; Sir Kt. 2nd M. of G., O. Chas. Trimble; Sir Kt. Sen'l., F. P. Dunn.

The Order of the Macabees is principally an insurance institution, but it has social and benevolent advantages as well and its ritualistic work is said to be very fine. The Charter will be kept open for some time yet to afford an opportunity to a large number to go in as Charter members. Those who have joined here are enthusiastic in praise of the Order, especially for its insurance privileges.

Adjutant-General Galusha Dead.

Charles H. Galusha, Adjutant-General of the Nevada State Militia, died in San Francisco yesterday at the German Hospital. A message from the Masonic Board of Relief to E. D. Vandeworth, Secretary of Carson Lodge, No. 1, F. & A. M. of which deceased was a member, brought the sad news to Carson. General Galusha had been in poor health for some time and he went to San Francisco about four weeks ago under advice of his physician and a few days ago he was said to be improving. He was 53 years of age, a native of New York; and he served in the 6th Michigan Infantry Volunteers in the Civil War. He came to Nevada about 26 years ago and was elected to the Legislature in Storey in 1876. He leaves a daughter who is married and resides in San Jose. He was appointed Adjutant-General of the Nevada National Guard by Governor Colcord and held the office up to the time of his death. His body will be brought to Nevada and the interment will take place at Carson City, under the auspices of the Masonic Lodge.

Desires to Succeed Himself.

H. C. Cutting, State Superintendent of Schools, spent the day here yesterday. Mr. Cutting will be a candidate before the Silver Convention to succeed himself. He has filled the office of State Superintendent nearly four years and the people of course have had the opportunity of judging as to his ability. The schools throughout the State, under his watchful eye, have prospered and there has been little friction or fault finding. It is presumed that if Mr. Cutting is again chosen for this position his efforts will be as earnest in educational matters in the future as they have been during his official career.

The death of Mrs. Robina L. Talbot is announced as having occurred at Atlantic City, Iowa, on the 18th of the present month. Mrs. Talbot was a daughter of M. Hamilton, formerly of Ophir, this county and a sister of Mrs. F. A. Teasland of the Mound House.

Governor Badler was in town yesterday as a witness in the Foley case.

FROM THE FAR EAST.

Lincoln County Teachers Institute and Other Matters.

EDITOR JOURNAL: I have just returned from attending a Lincoln county Teacher's Institute held at Panaca by F. M. McNamee, the County Superintendent of Lincoln county, and as this is about the first county institute held in the State, I thought that a short account of it might be of interest to your readers.

First it might be in order to give an idea of the location and a description of Panaca. In order to reach this little farming community in Lincoln county, one must go to Salt Lake, from there take the Utah Central railroad to Milford, and then by stage one hundred and twenty miles, which is a continuous trip, taking twenty-four hours, arriving in Panaca in a most dilapidated condition.

The town is a little farming village of from three to four hundred inhabitants, and without exception, I think, they are members of the Mormon Church. Some people who are not familiar with those of this creed may think that the fact that they are members of the Mormon Church stamps them as uncouth and non-progressive, but this is far from being the truth. I was charmed by the contentment and quiet perseverance of this people. They are very much in favor of progress in education, very patriotic, gentle, hospitable and ambitious.

The Institute had been in progress one day when I arrived, and they had a well arranged program for the next day. There were some twelve or fifteen teachers present, who attended all the meetings faithfully and showed great interest in the discussions, but not only did the teachers attend, but the town's people attended in great numbers, in fact, the meeting hall was uncomfortably crowded at every meeting, and there was a very large proportion of men. This was very encouraging to me, for I think it shows that the County Institute can be made a great benefit to education in this State, and I would like very much to see some of our Superintendents in counties more favored than Lincoln county, try an Institute.

We are about the only State where these County Institutes are not held regularly once a year, and there is no reason why we should remain longer at the end of the procession in this matter, for Mr. McNamee conducted this Institute almost without expense, and I am sure he has done a great deal of good for his county in educational matters. In fact the people were so much interested that they invited me to stay another day and address them on the matter of a county high school for Lincoln county. This I agreed to do, and was met by a large audience, mostly men, and from the enthusiasm and interest exhibited I believe that Lincoln county will this fall follow the lead of Elko county and establish a county high school.

A Narrow Escape.

Thankful words written by Mrs. Ada E. Hart, of Graton, S. D. "Was taken with a bad cold which settled upon my lungs, cough set in and finally terminated in Consumption. Four Doctors gave me up, saying I could live but a short time. I gave myself up to my Savior, determined if I could not stay with my friends on earth, I would meet my absent ones above. My husband was advised to get Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and colds. I gave it a trial took eight bottles in all. It has cured me, and thank God, I am saved and now a well and healthy woman." Trial bottles free at S. J. Hodgkinson's Drug Store. Regular size 60c and $1.00. Guaranteed or price refunded.

An Unusual Distinction.

Major F. M. Hoffaker has been appointed a member of the Committee of Appeals of the Sovereign Grand Lodge, I. O. F. of the United States. This committee is always appointed in the month of July preceding the session of the Sovereign Grand Lodge, and is supposed to meet one week before the session of that lodge. The honor is an unusual one for a Nevanian, the committee not being a large one.—Virginia Report.

A Ghostly Find.

Messrs. Quirk and Mahoney, two young men of Virginia while hunting in the hills back of that city discovered the body of a young child wrapped in a table cloth. It was first thought the remains were those of an Indian child, but further investigation proved that the body was that of a white child. Decomposition had set in and there was no means of identification. The coroner was notified and the mystery will be investigated.

A Shocking Accident.

Leo Hase of Virginia City met with a terrible death at Sastro on Wednesday evening by the accidental discharge of his shotgun. Both barrels were discharged, the contents entering the young man's abdomen near the navel. The course of the shot was upward and his death was instantaneous and painless.

Hase and Richard Schweiss took a buckboard and with guns started for Sastro to hunt doves. When ready to return home Hase got into the buckboard and Schweiss was to meet him at a point on the road. Shortly after they separated Schweiss heard the report of his comrade's gun, but paid no attention to it. After waiting for some time at the place of meeting agreed upon, Schweiss returned and found Hase's broken gun on the road, then the robe, whip and finally Hase lying in the sagebrush stone dead. It is supposed that the gun was caught by the wheel of the vehicle while Hase was driving causing the accident. The young man leaves a wife and five children and a number of relatives in California and on the Comstock.

ETYMOLOGY OF "HURRAH."

Mr. Spratley Says That We Got It From Ancient Egypt.

W. J. Spratley, to use his plain English name, has favored us with a copy of a letter he has addressed to The Institute and Lecturers' Gazette on the etymology of the word "Hurrah!" which Mr. Spratley spells "Hoorah!" We have been vaguely cherishing the idea that it had a Russian origin, but Mr. Spratley takes us to ancient Egypt in his etymological search. He thinks "there can be no doubt that the Egyptian soldiers went into battle to the inspiring cheer of 'Hoorah! Hoorah! Hoorah!'" and if the average questioning man asks why, he suggests him with this: "Because Hoorah (in the tongue of the Thothmes and Rameeses) means 'The king, the king!' Yea, more. As 'Ra' means not only king, but also God and man, the concentrated meaning of the cry would be, 'For God, king and country!' What more loyal, what more patriotic, what more devout?" What, indeed!

But lest we should haply still doubt, Mr. Spratley clinches the matter by citing, in corroboration, the fact that his name, in Egyptian roots, is Sa-pa-Ra-ta-y, or Sa-pa-Hoo-Ra-ta-y, which means "Son of heaven, king of the two hemispheres," and if the authority of a gentleman of this descent is not good enough for the mere doubter, even Mr. Sa-pa, etc., may well despair of convincing him. More than this, if Mr. Spratley's Egyptian name means anything—and this is an open question—it also signifies "King of lower Egypt and king of upper Egypt," or "Emperor of the World." But what we chiefly like it for is that it seems to settle another point that may well have baffled the philologist—namely, the genesis of the once familiar refrain "Ta-ra-ra-boom-de-ay." Is it possible that Miss Lottie Collins and the street urchin have been singing ancient Egyptian, as Mr. Jourdain spoke prose, without knowing it?—London Chronicle.

Speaker Reed's Autograph.

The Kennebec (Me.) Journal says that when autograph hunters ask Speaker Reed for his signature he writes it rather hastily, and it is simply T. B. Reed. If the pen does not mark plainly, the speaker does not always take pains to dip it anew, provided there is a scrawl and all the letters are visible.

Not so when the oblong forms of parchment are handed to him from the committee on enrolled bills, of which Representative Hager of Iowa is chairman. Mr. Hinds, the clerk to the speaker's desk, hands up the pile of parchment, and the speaker carefully looks over each. Taking them down one by one, he writes his name slowly and carefully. It does not appear as T. B. Reed, but as Thomas B. Reed.

The ink is dipped from a bottle that sits within a silver tray, which has come down from the time when Henry Clay was speaker of the house of representatives. Then the signature is carefully blotted, the precious parchment is carried to the senate and eventually finds its way to the state department, where it is stored among the archives.

It is estimated that more than 75,000 fishermen go out of New York every Sunday and that they spend on an average of $2 each on the sport.
